At Ho - Co - Hi

This is the story of how we work and play.

These days in which we are reaching young manhood and womanhood

Are grave days.

We realize that

We realize, too, the great danger of losing

Our reason,

Our perspective,

Our sense of humor in such times.

So, we consider it fitting

That our '44 yearbook glorify

The reckless, irrepressible spirit

That belongs to youth

And to youth alone,

Enabling us to work and play

No matter how serious the situation

We face.

We have not neglected the real values.

Ho-Co-Hi students still study,

They still read,

They still search for knowledge.

We feel that we will not be caught napping.

We will be ready to deal ably

With any situation

When the time comes.

And we shall be abler because

Now, as we work, we also play.

We learn cooperation.

We learn to strive to win

With all our being,

And to accept defeat gracefully

Without discouragement.

We keep the rules,

We respect the rights of others,

And we laugh, aloud, at ourselves.

From the Editor's desk...

In this, the seventh volume of the Ho Co Hi Memorial, we have done our best to portray life at Holmes County High School as it really is. We know that the book represents quite a little work, we hope some original thinking, and certainly a little heartache.

If it does not merit your approval, we can find consolation in the fact that it is different, representing the energy, the creativeness, the humor, and the spirit of our seniors and underclassmen.

The staff has worked hard, day in, day out, to edit this yearbook. Its edition has been no bed of roses. We've had priorities and war-time shortages with which to contend; but we feel that, in spite of our many ups and downs, we are giving you the best yearbook in the history of our school

Both the staff members and sponsor sincerely believe that when you receive your yearbook, you will be very pleased with its contents. We also know that in years to come you will attain even more pleasure from its every page, for we have tried hard to preserve the achievements and the memories of the high school days of the class of 1944.

ALMA MATER

In the center of our village
By the broad highway
Stands our noble Alma Mater
Like a beaming ray.
And we praise her and uphold her
Over land and sea
And we treasure dearest friends
That we know so well.

Hail to Thee, our Alma Mater
May we never fail
For we pray for thy great progress
Hail to Old Holmes! Hail!

IN MEMORIAM

OSCAR OF THE SCHOOL STORE

September, 1943- January, 1944

By TOM D. WILLIAMS

Students and teachers of the Senior Class,
We have come to bury Oscar, at last.

None of us would know what to pray,
So I just whipped up these few words to say.

Oscar lived a life of great fear,
Every time he came out, Howard was near.

Oscar was the Senior's life long pet,
Not just an ordinary rat.

His life's ambition was to be free
But Howard wouldn't let him, would he?

We hope Howard's conscience don't hurt him too bad,
Although this occasion makes us very sad.

Another enemy of Oscar was John Rooks,
John often hit Oscar with a stack of books.

You might think this funeral silly,
But we don't think so really.

Oscar died in the line of duty Friday night,
So we will mark his grave as a historic site.

We would now like to sing a song
But I've already made my sermon too long.

Now as we lay Oscar into his grave
Let's all be strong, bold, and brave.

There comes a time in everyone's life when there is sorrow,
But don't worry, we can find another Mascot today or tomorrow.

Chesnut, and grave-digger Earl Bush.

HO-CO-HI MEMORIAL

The annual must be out by April 10" decided the staff in unison at their first meeting early in October. The editor and Miss Ayers conferred with Mr. Al B. Block of the Rose Printing Company and Mr. J. Ray Rainer, our photographer, and the Ho-Co-Hi Memorial slowly began to take shape. Dummies were drawn up by the editor and from office to bandroom to "aa" shop into the printing plant.

It began with the collection of clubs and class rolls were collected and handed to the typists. Money for clubs, for pictures, for sponsors, for deposits began to come in and Mary and Charlene were busy with the class poem or the class yearbook. Everybody who had a

Sports Summary

There was some doubt at first about the future of football in Holm County High School. It was difficult, players were being drafted, and equipment hard to obtain.

When school started, we decided to call football practice and about twenty-five boys responded. From then on there was no doubt about a successful season—the boys really wanted to play ball.

Lettermen James Childs, Whitey Uiquhart and Gene [unclear] had for backfield duty leaving only one first string

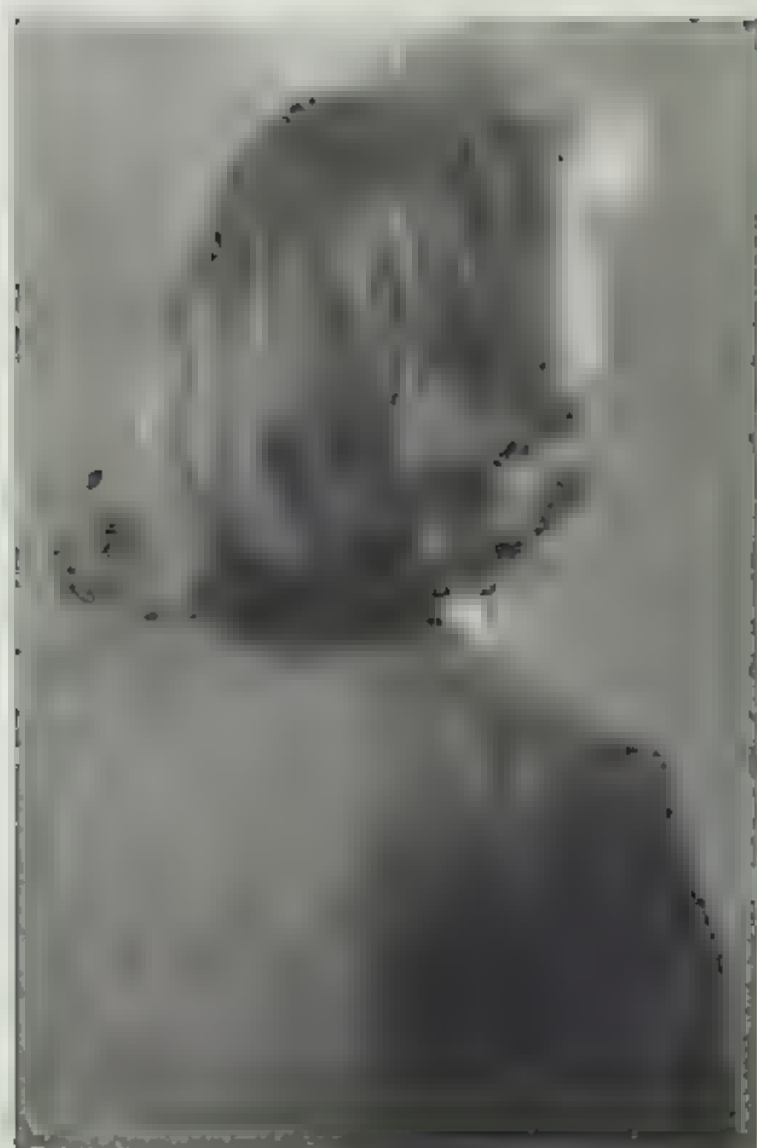

The forward wall was built around Capt. Arch Sims and Charles Comillon. Most of the other men—Simmons, Bush, Hackney, Sellers, Howell, Lowe, Rea, [unclear], Miller, Barefoot, Dyson, Fulford and Terry—were green but developed fast as the season

James Childs, Roger Sellers, Earl Bush, G. W. Barefoot and Billie Noblin are graduating seniors. These boys played fine ball but Noblin and Bush were very valuable as reserves—they played any position that I asked and did a fine job.

The 1943 squad was a fine bunch to work with, they practiced faithfully and played hard football. This outstanding asset was sportsmanship—it could not have been better.
